PRESENTATION -At a regular meeting of Honolula Royal Arch Chapter No. 1, held on Thursday evening. Feb. 18, a very handsome and massive iewel was presented to High Priest E. P. Adams. by King Kalakaua, on behalf of the Chapter.

HOOKEPU.-Last Wednesday forenoon, there was for several hours a constant stream of natives, men, women and children, passing through the Palace yard, bringing gitts of fowls, pigs, vegetables, and fruits for His Majesty, who had a kind word and an extended band for each. This is an ancient custom, called hookupa, which amounts to an ex-

PHILIP PHILLIPS.—This world renowned singer of sacred song arrived by the Cyphrenes on Weddesday from San Francisco, en route for the Colonies of Australia. He gave one concert the same evening at the Fort street Church. The unusual hour at which the concert commenced-6 o'clock -together with the short notice given prevented a fuller attendance; as it was, the house was comfortably full. Everybody was delighted with the peculiarly sweet, and to the religiously inclined, elevating and enlivening. The receipts of the concert, less expenses, were $197, which sum was divided between Mr. Phillips and the Honolulu Sailor's Home Society. We learn that Mr. P. donated his share of the proceeds to a destitute church in New York. He sailed the same evening for Australia, where we expect to hear that his concerts of sacred song have met with the same popular approval as in England and America. Several weeks since we alluded to a state

Hawalian seamen discharged from an American whaleship in San Francisco, to the effect that they had never been shown the accounts of settlement of their voyage by the Hawaiian Consul at San Francisco, and that moreover the Captain had, with the consent of the Consul deducted from the amount due each man, the cost of passage to this port. These statements were made by the men with every appearance of truth, and were besides backed up by one of the officers of the ship who arrived here at the same time. Under these circircumstances, Capt. Smith the Harbor Master, as was his duty, wrote promptly to Consul Severance. to inquire into the matter, and by the last mail he received from that officer all the papers connected with the discharge of the men in question. These papers we have seen in the office of the Harbor Master, whereby it appears that the stories of the men were mere fabrications, and that they were

home paid by the Captain, as by law required, and not deducted from their pay. SUPPERING IN KANSAS -- The grasshopper plague of last summer and the intense cold of the present winter have, combined, made hard times for the farmers of Kansas. Among these is E. C. Webster, formerly a resident of Honolulu, whom old residents will well remember. The following are extracts from a letter recently received here from him: "You cannot realize the intense suffering same condition but for the assistance of kind tells me that they have not tasted meat, (excepting rabbit, or prairie chicken) since last July. But enough of this. Why should I make you feel bad by relating sufferings that you cannot relieve? * * The locusts did my harvesting in such a manner that I had nothing left. . . I have no doubt but that the Governor was interviewed, and I as little doubt but that he expressed his opinion on matters and things here quite freely, but there is a make-up to the repertorial account of his sayings that reads' uspiciously. Men, even if they are reporters, do not transcribe long orations while talking with a Esq., then addressed the King in the following man, or venture to give his language, unless his | words;

The art of "padding" is one that is carefully studied by the reporter, and that, combined with the disease known in Milwaukee as the "Chicago diptheria," with which the Governor's interviewer was probably affected, will reasonably explain the published account of the interview, in a much nore satisfactory manner, to us at least, than to adopt the bypothesis of the Gazette, that Kapena is

Its ratification or rejection, after all is said and done, will, no doubt, rest upon the question of expediency. People will froth at the mouth over humanitarianism, affiliationism, what-we-as-agreat-and-enlightened-people-owe-to-the-islandism, &c., &c., but a few leaders of parties on both sides will simply look to the effect on their political prospects, and pull the wires accordingly.

THE FRAGRANT LIMBERGER .- Some folks don't like the odor of Limberger cheese : but there are people that can't appreciate the flavor of a well-developed pole-cat. One evening, not very long since, a gentleman had made his preparations attend prayer-meeting with his wife. Prior to starting he came down town to his place of business, and while there an acquaintance discovered that be was about to engage in Wednesday evening devotion. Accordingly, he put up a villain-ous job. Procuring a huge slice of the most fra-grant Limberger cheese to be had, he watched his opportunity, and just as the gentleman stepped out of the door to go bome for his wife, slipped it in his pocket. The parties repaired to the church and were soon seated side by side in a comfortable pew near the warm stove. Soon the cheese began to loud. The sisters turned their heads about and looked as if a krant had exploded. The deacons smell, and the wife of the unconscious odor casket nudged her spouse and inquired if he didn't smell something. "Mariar, it's awful," he responded; "it must be in the coal." The more the assembly speculated the louder the odor became, and finally all hands united in burrying the proceedings to a close. Arrived at home, and while preparing to retire, the gentleman discovered the cause of the unpleasantness, and removed it on a couple of

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION Torch-Light Procession and Illumination.

Monday morning, at 7 o'clock, the prenconcerted signal from Punchbowl announced that the ship beating His Majesty the King was in sight from the outer station. The general imression had obtained that the Royal Party would not arrive for some days vet, and that the mail steamer would be here first. Consequently the community was taken by surprise, and the arrangements for the demonstrations of welcome. as contemplated by the Committee of Reception, were to a considerable extent incomplete. But whatever was wanting in the way of the usual singing, which though inartistic and simple, was wealth of evergreens and flowers, rendered unavailable on so short notice, was fully compensated for by the enthusiasm of the cruwds of people that poured down to the Esplanade, where at the foot of Fort street, the debarkation took place. A few minutes past nine o'clock, the U.S. S.

Pensacola, bearing the flag of Admiral Almy, and carrying the Royal Standard of Hawaii at the main, steamed slowly into the harbor and took up her position between the U. S. S. Portsmouth and Tuscarora, while H. B. M. S. Reindeer lay in line beyond the latter, all the ships being gaily decorated with flags. At 10 o'clock, His Majesty and crowd. There was at least five hundred torches ment made to the Harbor Master by some native Suite left the flag ship, while a Rayal salute was thundered forth from the Pensacola and Portsmouth, and followed by the Battery on Punchbowl. As the King stepped on shore, bearty cheers of welcome went up from the crowd gathered at the landing, which were taken up and continued along the route through Fort and King streets, until the Palace was reached, while all the bells of the city rang forth a merry peal. His Majesty, who was looking extremely well, frequently removed his hat and bowed in acknowledgment of the greetings of his people. First in the order of procession was a line of His Majesty's family) followed by a squad of native special police. Then came the children of the public schools, to the number of a thousand or more, many of them carrying boquets of flowers, marshaled by their teachers. Following these were members of the Associations " Hawaii Opiopio" and "Mamalahoa," and then the members of the different fire companies, dressed in uniform. After these were the military, consisting of the Hawaiian Guards, the Cavalry, on foot, and the Household Troops, immediately preceding the state carriage containing His Majesty the King, and their Excellencies Governors Dominis and Kapens, which was followed by a that surrounds me here; some even barefoot with dense mass of citizens generally. At the Palace, the immense crowd poured into the grounds, and the King was again welcomed home with enthusiastic cheers. His Majesty alighted from the carriage at Kinau Hale, and standing on the veranda said a lew words of aloha" to the assembled crowd which heartily gave an " aloba " in return. The Committee of Reception, through its chairman, S. B. Dole,

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY: We, your subjects and residents of Hawali nel. welcome you with gladness at the threshold of our Kingdom on your return from foreign lands. We have watched with great interest the progress of your visit to America. We have rejoiced in the enthusiastic reception which our American Irlends have so heartily given you; and we honor the unfailing manliness, modesty and disnity with which you, Sire, have received their attentions. For the first time in their history, a crowned King has been the guest of that nation who claim to be all Kings, and they have proved themselves royal hosts to the royal visitor. We congratulate you upon your successful and pleasant visit and sale return; we congratulate you upon the tranquility and loyalty which have existed during your absence; we con gratulate you upon the increased friendly relations which your visit has inspired between your govern-ment and the great nation which has so hospitably entertained you. Now, as you return to your own family and people, to take up the work to which Providence and your subjects have called you, we unite in prayer that God may grant you a long and prosperous reign; that our common country may be increased in prosperity; and that, under the leadership of your Fatherly hand and heart, the nation may grow in numbers and strength. Your Majesty, in the name of all Hawalians, from Hawaii of Keawe to Kauai of Mano, we welcome you to your native land with aLOHA.

At the conclusion of the address by Mr. Dole, His Majesty, who listoned to it with evident gratification, thanked the Committee, and heartily shook each of them by the hand.

The crowd around Kinau Hale was dense, and a constant stream of ladies and gentlemen was for several boars passing through the bouse, improving the opportunity afforded of shaking bands with the King and of expressing the sentiment

So numerous and diversely beautiful were these public demonstrations of the good will and enthusiasm of individuals in swelling the general tide of rejoicing. that it would be a long as well as an invidious task to particularize. Transparencies with approprinte moltoes were at merous.

The front windows of the Givernment House were brilliantly lit up with candles, as well as he tower, which was surmounted with a beautiul transparency of the words "Kulakaun-Hooulu Lahui." From each side of the tower of the building down to the wings, extended long lines of red, white and blue lanterne, while a row of similar lanterns extended all along the street front acing the Palace. Over the entrance to the latter was a transparency surmounted with a floral crown, with the words ... Welcome Home. The spires of Kawaishau and the Roman Catholic Churches were beautifully illuminated, as was the bell-tower of the Fire Department and the flagpole of Engine Co. No. 2. Among the neatest transparencies was that in the front of the Hoss Company building.

From eight o'clock until nine, the torch-light rocession of firemen and eitizens generally, with transparencies and fireworks, paraded through the principal streets, making a brilliant display, accompanied by the band, the music of which howover, was frequently drawned by the sheers of the in the procession; we have heard it estimated at a thousand. Marching through the Palace grounds, when passing Kinau Hale, in the veranda of which His Majesty stood to view the duzzling scene, three rousing cheers were given, that might have been heard half way to Koolan.

Continuously during the evening, sky rockets were sent up from various parts of the city, and other fireworks were numerous. As a whole, the demonstrations of Monday and Monday night, in honor of His Majesty's return from his most auspicious visit to the United States, exceeded anything of the kind that Honolula has ever witnessed, notwithstanding the fact that the King's advent was unhersided and unexpected for several days.

So far as we can learn, no accident of consequence occurred to mar, for any one, the pleasant recollections that for many years will centre on the 15th of February in Honolulus

In conclusion, we may add that His Majesty returns to his Kingdom and his people in excellent ealth and spirits, after an absence of only ninety days, much gratified with his visit and the royally cospitable reception which he received from the people and the Government of the Great Republic.
